Curpure, our flagship product is a pure Curcumin extract. It is the only water-soluble and highly bioavailable Curcumin extract in the global market. Developed through extensive study of Indian Ayurveda and other time tested and traditional forms of medicine processing through our own MED-SD-SOL a patent pending technology. Curcumin is the principle polyphenolic compound of turmeric. It is rich in the benefits of turmeric, a spice whose use has been pivotal in Vedic Ayurvedic treatment for over 5000 years.

Often used as an antibacterial and anti-inflammatory, Curcumin also:

- regenerates and restores of dead cells
- promotes renewed energy and mental focus
- helps in diabetic management
- manages heart and kidney health
- maintains body weight and fights obesity
- naturally cleanses the lungs, liver and respiratory tract
- helps fight every kind of infection
- works as an anti-ageing agent
- boosts sexual health
- improves digestion, regulates menstruation, relieving arthritis, boosts immunity

Recently concluded scientific studies confirm that, prophylactic application of Curcumin decreased inflammation resulting in a reduced influx of fluid in lungs. This was through down regulation of the pro-inflammatory cytokines and cell adhesion molecules by modulation of NF- κ B activity and stabilizing hypoxia-inducible factor 1- α (HIF1- α), leading to down regulation of angiogenic molecules such as VEGF followed by a reduction in pulmonary edema and albumin extravasation in the bronchoalveolar lavage fluid.

Curcumin is the main, active, metabolite, and nutraceutical and anti-inflammatory agent in turmeric, responsible for all of the spice's benefits. It is no wonder that both science and history hold evidence of Curcumin's curative as well as preventative powers. Loaded with antioxidants, it fights visible signs of aging by curbing the growth of free radicals, boosts the brain's levels of the hormone BDNF which fights degenerative processes, stimulates the lymphatic system to alleviate liver toxins, and vitalizes the endothelium, preventing dysfunction that triggers heart diseases.

Blown away by this wonder spice? We were too, as we discovered the seemingly endless benefits of a root that sits in all of our kitchens. But unfortunately, there's a hitch that limits Curcumin's regenerative abilities: it's abysmal bioavailability and inaccessibility, due to its extremely low water solubility. Up until present, Curcumin could never be dissolved in water. That's where Curpure comes in. We've designed a product that meticulously overcomes these limitations making Curcumin completely water soluble without any additives.

What sets us apart from the run-of-the-mill Curcumin products, which flood the market? We are the only product in the whole world that gives you Curcumin in a purely water soluble, saturated liquid form. This increases its bioavailability by several fold. MED-SD-SOL, our patent pending technology, converts hydrophobic, water insoluble Curcumin into water soluble Curpure. Our product is not just versatile and incredibly easy to use, it is pure, so you can derive a maximum of nutrients, without fear of allergens, unappealing flavours or chemical preservatives. Wellness doesn't get easier than this.
